THE FIRST SHOT TAKES EFFECT: HOW A BRITISH WARSHIP SANK A GERMAN STEAMER ON THE HIGH SEAS.

Firing the first shot from the British warship. It did not take our gunners long to send the enemy vessel to the bottom of the sea.

The first shot finds its billet and hits the vessel in the bows.

Officers watch the effects of the shell fire.

There has been great destruction of property on the waters since the world war began (though it cannot, of course, be compared to the devastation caused on land), and large numbers of ships, which, if peace had reigned, would be carrying merchandise to all parts of the globe, now lie at the bottom of the ocean. These interesting photographs were taken on board a British war vessel and illustrate the sinking of a German steamer on the high seas.

ONLY A SHILLING.

KNITTING is no doubt an effective bar to any but scrappy conversation in nearly all British homes just now. Not that the clink of the needles, responding to clash of arms overseas, need necessarily murder talk; but necessarily it prompts to a disjointed continuance of it, war-discussion every minute being interrupted by questions as to "what has gone wrong here," in socks or muffler. These innumerable needles, thus clinking, are evidence of the mobilisation of our women on behalf of our men at the front.

Women are working admirably for the help of the men. Only, a question remains: Have they worked also for the help of other women?—of those women, above all, whose men are in the fighting line, or training soon to join it?

We were sufficiently warned, at the outbreak of war, of the inevitable dislocation in economic life. In point of fact, this upheaval—thanks to our command of the seas—has hitherto been less alarming than was expected. But we remember that at the very beginning 40,000 women were thrown out of work in London alone. Thousands of women, many of whom were supporters of homes just as effectively as a man could have been, were obliged to face embarrassment or want. Economically, the war hit the working women harder and in greater numbers than it hit men.

It will be remembered that Queen Mary at once came to the aid of these women. The "Work for Women" Fund was started, which by means of non-competitive employment is enabling thousands of women to maintain homes and self-respect. Immense good was done, and still is being done, in this way; but there are still thousands of patient waiting women who have as great a claim upon the country as the sailors and soldiers who defend it. For them, this week a special appeal is being made by the "Work for Women" Fund, and every woman who can afford it is asked to send a shilling as a special New Year's offering to Mrs. C. Arthur Pearson (the Hon. Treasurer) at 33, Portland-place, W. Upon the finding of those shillings depends the lightening of the gloom of many homes this Christmas. Surely, therefore, they will easily be found.

This Appeal, then, is especially addressed to women; and it begs them—in the intervals of knitting—to see if they cannot find something to spare for the women left behind, for whose sakes the men are fighting, in order that they may be spared what Belgium has suffered. We have been asked to give publicity to this idea of a "self-denial week," during which every woman can show her sense of the obligation we are under to our soldiers by helping those they have left here in our keeping to find work and relief for their anxieties during the war.

IN MY GARDEN.

DEC. 9.—It is most important to have good paths in a garden, and the winter is a good time to attend to them. A gravel path makes the most attractive walk in a garden, and, if properly made, will always be smooth and dry. The ground should be dug out about a foot deep and the bottom of the trench filled with large stones. On these place smaller stones, and then finish with three inches of good gravel.

Walks formed with old flag-stones look pretty in old-fashioned gardens, and brick paths have a neat appearance. Tar and cinder paths ought not to be used in a flower garden. Well-kept grass walks are delightful during the summer, but they need constant attention.

THROUGH "THE MIRROR."

"WHEN WAR SHALL CEASE."

Of course, Mr. Henry Rose is quite right when he says that "Human nature is certainly not as it was and therefore will not be as it is."

The lady or gentleman who signs herself or himself (most inaccurately) "Nature" is presumably not acquainted with the history of mankind. "Out of the depths" has man come, and is even now rising higher.

To give but one example: The race of cannibals has practically ceased to exist.

Hadleigh, Essex. (PRINCE) JOSEPH CAMILLUS.

I FULLY agree with all that your correspondent, "M. S.," says under the heading: "When War Shall Cease." It is certainly the human mind that is in error, and until people

A SCHOOLBOY'S LETTER.

THIS is the letter of a schoolboy, aged sixteen, just received by his aunt:—

Lots of our old boys have joined the colours. I don't think any chap should stay at home without some very excellent excuse, and I don't mean to be left behind either. After I have taken this exam. (to get exemption from the northern matric) I intend to try and get in as a dispatch rider or motor-cyclist in the R.E. A chap younger than me is a sapper in the R.E. (he's a big chap and tough), and only left last term.

I am really not strong enough for sapper's work—muscularly, I mean—but plenty strong enough for motor-cyclist work, and I know the work and technique thoroughly, and also a lot of French. Age won't matter seeing I can ride,

BIG AND LITTLE WILLIE TO THE RESCUE!

Kaiser and Clown Prince have made repeated dashes from east to west, and from west to east, since the beginning of the war, in response to cries of "Help!" from one side or the other. Cries from both sides simultaneously must result in a collision in the centre of Germany.—(By Mr. W. K. Haselden.)

realise this, until they take to heart the Scripture truth, "Love thy neighbour as thyself," war will continue to be.

Almost from the beginning of time war has been the method of settling disputes. We read in the Bible that "Nations shall rise up against nations." This has been so, and will be. No doubt this great European crisis may teach the world a lesson, and may result in peace for perhaps a century or more, but it will not be the end of war for all time. This will not be until individuals as well as nations undergo a complete change, until they learn the secret of giving and taking and considering self last.

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

Does any man wound thee? Not only forgive, but work into thy thought intelligence of the kind of pain, that thou mayest never inflict it on another spirit.—Margaret Fuller.

BRITAIN AT WAR.

How Good and Bad Are Mingled in This Christmas Season.

CHRISTMAS, 1914.

SEEING that you are inviting opinions regarding how Christmas should be spent, and that some are of opinion that no difference should be made this year, I venture to suggest that there is a great contrast between spending a gloomy Christmas and a Christmas of lavish expenditure.

I think even the children should be made to think of the hardships our soldiers and sailors are undergoing and of the homeless Belgian families, and to be content with less expensive treats and less expensive presents, and that school treats and Sunday-school treats should be very much modified, and the money thus saved in these several ways be devoted to making Christmas brighter for soldiers, sailors and the homeless Belgians.

Those who advocate spending Christmas as usual would do well to pause and consider what kind of a Christmas England would have spent if it had not been for the plucky stand made by little Belgium.

V. HASLER.

PEACE AND GOODWILL.

I BELIEVE that Christ will be loved more this Christmas than He has been loved since the days of the early Christians. It is not easy to love Him rightly until we have once known His inexpressible love in all its fulness, and I am sure that this fulness can only come where there has first been an awful aching emptiness, such as the emptiness which exists in many thousands of hearts to-day, and which we vince to think of.

"The great plan of redemption has not failed" ("God is not mocked"); it has been steadily ("a thousand years is as one day with God") developing since the first Christmas, and never before has our Empire had such a glorious opportunity to hasten its fulfilment as in this her voluntary campaign.

The so-called peace that so many people regret was no peace with its strikes and class hatred and fear of enemies. For many years Christmas has been a comparative failure. The world was becoming blind and deaf. Earthquakes, floods, droughts, great shipping and railway disasters, colliery explosions, etc., of an unparalleled character produced scarcely any appreciable lasting effect in the conscience of the majority of people. We have been spared pestilence and famine, so we ought to let our prayers and other efforts manifest to Him Who is just as well as merciful, that we are a nation, to know His will while we prosecute this hateful but necessary war, nothing doubting but that every sacrifice has its proper reward.

If we wish we are able thus to think and believe, within us, even at this Christmas-time, while the powers of darkness are expending their fell and pent-up fury in spouting their venom over us.

A BUSINESS MAN.

THE FUTURE.

Over the red field strode an armed knight:
Men knew him not; but when the fray did cease,
God's Angel stooped to bless Victorian Right,
And bade the hero's name thenceforth bereece.

—W. J. LINTON.

"Daily Mirror Reflections of War and Peace," being Vol. VIII. of Mr. Haselden's cartoons, is just out. It contains more than 100 of the best of them, including many of the series of Big and Little Willies. It costs 6d. net, postage 2d. There could be no better present for people at home or at the front.

DEADLY CAKES.

AFTER reading the suggestion of "Dyspepsia" send the Christmas puddings they make to the Germans, I would suggest a means whereby even the young and blushing Mrs. Newlywed may help her country.

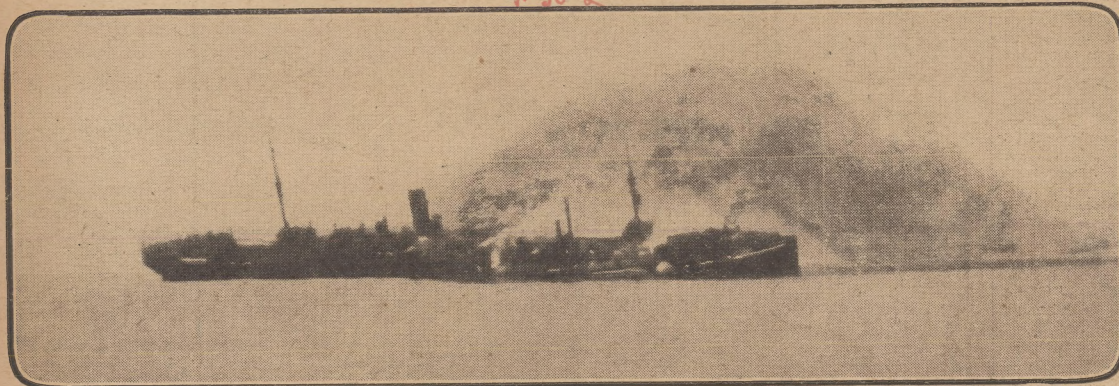

Let her make a large batch of those home-made cakes and send them to the front to be used as ammunition against the enemy. The damage caused by these deadly missiles would undoubtedly be great.

IDEA.

CREW RESCUED BEFORE STEAMER IS SUNK.

The crew of the steamer were taken off and towed to the warship in small boats.

The steamer settling down. She is on fire in the bows and amidships.

A few well-placed shells from a British warship set this large German steamer on fire, and it was not long before she disappeared from view. There is no time for sentiment in war, but no one could have watched this fine vessel being gradually swallowed up by the waves without a feeling of sorrow that such things should be necessary. The crew were made prisoners of war.

THE WELFARE OF THE BABY: CROYDON'S NEW SCHEME.

The infants are weighed regularly.

The best way to prepare food.

Dummies are not good for babies.

Croydon's babies should certainly thrive and become a credit to the town of which they are natives. A health bureau has been established where mothers can obtain the best advice as to how their children ought to be reared. They are weighed regularly, so that their progress can be noted by the medical officer, who watches over their welfare. The scheme has proved a great success.

A TON OF COAL
FOR 2/6.

Wonderful Scientific Discovery
Which Enables Everyone
To Save Large Sums in Weekly Housekeeping.

Remarkable Offer to Enable Every Household to Test the Splendid Economic Advantages of "Seldomite," Which Halves the Season's Coal Bill.

The introduction of the wonderful chemical substance "Seldomite," which doubles the "life" of coal, or, in other words, cuts in half the coal bill, is resulting in something like a sensation.

At this time, when every penny of housekeeping counts, "Seldomite" proves a veritable blessing, for warmth is almost as important as food.

Ladies are now finding that they are able to have in kitchen or drawing-room the brightest, cosiest and hottest fires they wish, and yet make one scuttful of coal treated with "Seldomite" go as far as two ordinary ones.

A saving such as this is, of course, greatly appreciated, all the more so because servants are pleased when "Seldomite" is used, for fires burn clearer, need less attention, and there is practically no waste, dust, or soot.

No matter how small or how large your coal bill, you can effect a wonderful saving by using "Seldomite," and if you use, say, one ton of coals a month you can save at least £5 during the coal fire season.

In order to give the public a most advantageous opportunity of testing "Seldomite" in their own homes, the proprietors have decided for a short while to send post free the full size 4s. box (sufficient to treat one ton of Coal, Coke, Anthracite, or Slack), with full directions, to all readers for only 2s. 6d.
Orders and remittances, however, must be sent within the next few days. Five boxes will be forwarded (whilst this offer lasts) for only 10s.

A MOST REMARKABLE SUCCESS.

Already "Seldomite" has found thousands of users who appreciate its cleanly and splendidly economical advantages, and testify to their appreciation by constant repeat orders.
Among the many distinguished users of "Seldomite" are:—

Earl of Desart	General Ramsarp
Countess Stanford	Lady Graham
Marquis de Granja	Sir G. G. Hanson
Earl of Loudoun	Admiral Hammick
Viscount Elbank	Lord Mostyn
Lady Watkins	Sir George Wolsley
General Beeching	Hon. Cecil Parry
Sir J. Pender, Bart.	Lady Hutton
Lady Maclean	Sir Bertram Dawson
General Robinson	General Fagan
Lord Sydenham	Lord Sinclair
Lady Renshaw	Professor Slater
Sir Wm. Clark	Hon. Mrs. Tremayne
Hon. Mrs. Anderson	Lady Strachey
Lady Cunningham	Lady Franklin
Countess Stanhope	General Ruggles
Major-General Dun	Lady Dawson
Lord Salvson	Count Wingersky
Lady Louisa Walker	General Warren
Sir C. Mackworth	Sir C. Shaw
Lady Warwick	Sir Wm. C. Dunbar
Lady Bridport	Bishop of Newcastle
Sir F. MacLabe	Lady Stanford
Hon. Mrs. Henniker	General Lock
Lord Francis Hope	Sir N. Kennedy
Lady John Hay	General Carey
Lady Johnson	Hon. Mrs. Trefusis

"Seldomite" is easily used and is alike suitable for factories, hospitals, schools, clubs, kitchen, greenhouse, drawing-room, or dainty flat. It does not smell; there are no fumes; it is perfectly healthy. Indeed, no one knows that it is in use except that the fire burns consistently, warmly, cosily and brightly without any attention.

To take advantage of the special offer made above readers should send remittance of 2s. 6d. for the full size 4s. box (sufficient for one ton of Coal, Coke, Anthracite, or Slack), or 10s. for five boxes, addressing their letters to:—

Dunlops catch De Wet.

In the fourteen years that have elapsed since De Wet set up a record in elusiveness a new factor has come into warfare—the motor-car—and by its assistance the arch-rebel has been rounded up in a few weeks. The part played by the pneumatic tyre in the development of the motor-car cannot be overestimated. By its elimination of vibration, the modern high-speed motor has been made practicable, and speeds of over 130 miles per hour have been obtained. The capture of De Wet is therefore directly attributable to the invention of the tyre, in 1888. During the twenty-six years that have elapsed Dunlop tyres have retained their place in the public confidence by sheer merit.
